Working Group Teaser explaining what will take place during the meeting, 100 words:

In Cumulus network there are a lot of expertise in art and design pedagogy. Many schools carry out also an art and design teacher education degree programme or special study modules of art and design pedagogy.

We are interested in aggregating this expertise within Cumulus and launch a working group under art and design teacher education and pedagogy. This will be the first and foundation meeting of the group.

The meeting will include some presentations of case studies and introduction, discussion and team work of ideas for our future collaboration in different forms. The methods, platforms and goals will be decided by the participants.
